A Learning Experience that Changed Me:
One of the first jobs I had in high school was working on an assembly line in a factory constructing Wahl hair clippers in my hometown of Sterling, Illinois. I learned the value of a dollar, hard work, and the importance of showing up on time and working with others.
My Favorite Book:
A walk in the woods by Bill Bryson
My Hobbies and Interests:
Backpacking, Fishing, Basketball, Ultimate Frisbee, Volleyball, Singing, Gardening
Prior Experience in Education:
I began my career in education working for AmeriCorps in Iowa, teaching outdoor education to K-12 students about the importance of animals and plants within Iowa's native ecosystems. In Wyoming, I substitute taught for Natrona County Schools in Casper. Most recently, I earned my Masters in curriculum, instruction and teaching from the University of Denver.
Something Super-Unique About Me:
In 2010, while working as a herpetologist for the Wyoming Game and Fish Department, I discovered a new species of reptile to the state of Wyoming, a type of lizard called the Great Basin skink.
Why I am Excited About Working at DSST:
Having had the opportunity to student teaching at DSST, I'm excited to continue living the core values and continue working with the great teachers, students and staff I've gotten to know over this past year.
